FEBRUARY 17th, 1757. [Numb. 1183.]

The SOUTH-CAROLINA Gazette.

Mr. Timothy,

YOUR Gazette being the Channel thro' which any Thing that concerns the Public is moſt quickly diſperſed; it may not be amiſs, as SOWING Time approaches, to remind the Planter what Encouragement the Legiſlature has given for raiſing of HEMP in this Province, viz. by a Bounty of Seven Pounds Currency, for every Hundred Weight brought to Market in merchantable Order.

Without this Indulgence, I may venture to ſay, that Hemp would be a Staple preferable to Rice, Indico, or any Thing this Country has yet fallen upon; but in Conſideration of ſo indulgent a Bounty, that Advantage may be ſo [illegible], and opens ſo profitable a Proſpect [illegible] Introduction, that it would appear Matter for Amazement, if the Planter let ſlip ſo favourable an Opportunity. Let it be conſidered, that Hemp is always in Demand, and would be conſumed in our Mother-Country, without being liable to any conſiderable Changes in Value like to Rice or Indico. It would encourage, as much if not more than Indico diſcourages, Navigation, and preſerve a good Mean or Medium between both.

Merchants have eſteem'd it good Policy in Trade, to buy up thoſe Commodities which the Generality did not run upon, as the ſureſt Way to meet with the beſt Market: And ſomething of the kind may turn out as beneficial to the Planter, viz. not to run ALL upon one or two Staples, whereby they will in all Probability be depreciated, but prudently add another String to their Bow.

However ſtrange, I believe it will be allowed a Truth, that it's found difficult to bring Mankind in general to the Practice of what is moſt for their Intereſts: This is amplified among ourſelves, whilſt we planted Rice only, 'till it was ſold for Ten Shillings per Hundred Weight; and the ſame Conſequence may be expected from Indico, which is now made on each Hand in our neighbouring Provinces, as well as in our own. But to make ſhort, the raiſing of Hemp has more beneficial Conſequences than any we have, or than any I can pretend to delineate in this Paper: I ſhall only add, that when it is put in Practice, the Advantages ariſing will ſoon be found ſuch, that the Planter would need no other Prompter or Incitement than his own Intereſt, to continue it with Diligence and Alacrity. I am, Yours, &c.

REGULUS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.

A FRENCH dogger, valued at about 3000 pounds, arrived here on thurſday laſt, taken and ſent in by the Peggy privateer, of this port, Capt. Hadden, on the 16th of laſt month, in the latitude of Bermuda.

Halifax, Nov. 20. Laſt wedneſday the Tender ſchooner ſailed from hence for Louiſbourgh with 150 French priſoners.

Thurſday arrived the ſchooner Huzza from Louiſbourgh, whither ſhe had been from this place to carry a cargo of French priſoners. The French give out that they have proviſions enough in that garriſon for 3 years, and that they daily expect more from France.

December 4. Thurſday laſt arrived here his majeſty's ſhip Succeſs, Capt. Rous, from Portſmouth in New Hampſhire, having been relieved by his majeſty's ſhip Centurion, which went from this place for that purpoſe, to convoy the maſt ſhips home to England.

Boſton, Dec. 13. By Capt. Bryant from the Bay of Honduras, we are informed, That the Spaniards had demoliſhed the fort we had built at the mouth of the river, and thrown the cannon (18 in number) into the ſea. That they had fitted out a guarda-coſta of 12 guns, to take all veſſels that had logwood on board, and that ſhe had actually taken 2 veſſels belonging to New-York.

New York, Dec. 26. Monday laſt arrived here a large French prize ſhip, called Le Comte Clermont, M. Martin Dumand, commander, carrying a letter of marque, burthen about 400 tons, mounting 14 carriage guns, had upwards of 30 hands, and bound from Leogan for Old-France. She was taken on the 24th of November laſt, 150 leagues to ſouthward of Bermuda, by the privateer brig. King George, Capt. Arnold, of this port, after a cloſe engagement of about an hour and an half, in which Capt. Arnold had one man killed and 20 odd wounded, moſtly ſlight wounds, and but little damage done to his veſſel: On board the prize only the captain was killed, and one had wounded. Her lading conſiſts of indico, cotton, coffee, ſugar, hides, &c. and eſteem'd a rich prize.—This ſhip it ſeems ſailed from Leogan in company with 4 other veſſels; and the day before Capt. Arnold came up with them, had taken an Engliſh brig, it is ſaid, belonging to New-England, and being but of little value, the enemy ſet her on fire; by the light of which, at night, Capt. Arnold was induced to make all the ſail he could to know the occaſion; and at day light the next morning deſcried the fleet; and it falling a calm, was obliged to row up to them, when the prize lay too for an engagement, the other veſſels being at too great a diſtance to take part. Capt. Arnold, as ſoon as he had diſpatched her for this port, gave chace to the remaining part of the fleet, which was almoſt out of ſight.

Boſton, December 27. Extract of a Letter from the Rev. Mr. Whitefield, dated at Stirling, in Scotland, September 27, 1756.

"I have only time to acknowledge the receipt of your laſt kind favour, and to let you know that America, dear America, lays much upon my heart, and that I am exciting all to pray for it, both in public and private, every day. After preaching at Stirling this evening, I am now returning to Edinburgh, and from thence to London.—Perhaps ere time or another the cloud may move to your new world again.—I am waiting for ſome important news.—Lord Loudoun bears a moſt excellent character,—may the Lord of all lords be with him, and all thoſe that are heartily engaged in their country's cauſe."

Philadelphia, Dec. 30. Extract of a Letter from Fort Cumberland, dated the 9*th Inſt.*

"We have had ſeveral ſkirmiſhes on this quarter with ſmall ſcouting parties laſt fall, and generally to the advantage of our troops.

"The French and Indians, about 2 months ago, concerted a fooliſh ſcheme for taking this fort by ſtratagem. The Indians were to have been the principal actors. They propoſed coming with a flag of truce, under pretence of making peace, and during the conferences, which, according to their politicks, were to be carried on in the fort, a large party, to conſiſt of 200 French, and as many Indians, were to ruſh on the place from the neighbouring woods, and have their entrance facilitated by the Savages, who imagined themſelves admitted under colour of treating; but their deſigns proved abortive, by the taking of 2 of their ſpies; I mean, were laid aſide, or ſuſpended, on that account. However, their attempt muſt have failed at any rate; for we expect no Indians to come near us, with a friendly intention, except a few Catawba's, who wear a diſtinguiſhing mark; and if others are familiar enough to pay us a viſit, they may depend on as warm a reception as the true hearts of honeſt ſoldiers can give them.

"This place is much ſtrengthened lately. Accounts counts are daily expected from the Ohio by a party from this garison, who were sent out on purpose to gain intelligence."

Philadelphia, Jan 6. Extract of a Letter from Lancaster, dated the 1st Inst.

"Monday last I left the mouth of Conecocheig, where an express arrived from Fort Cumberland, with an account that 8 Catawba's, and 5 white men, had been to the mouth of Chartier's creek about a mile from Fort du Quesne, where they attacked an Indian cabbin, and killed and scalped 4 Indians. They then came back a little way, but the Catawba captain said, they must not return without a prisoner; upon which they crossed Mono-gahela, and went down towards the fort, near which they fell in with about 100 Shawanese and Delawares, with whom they engaged some time, but were at last obliged to run off. They left 3 white Men, and 2 Indians dead, or so badly wounded, that they could not get off. The 6 Indians were returned to Fort Cumberland, but much frost-bit, being forced to come off naked. The 2 white men had not come in when the express came away, but were expected, as they had got off from the engagement. The 2 Indians killed had 2 scalps with them, so that they brought in only 2. The Catawba's said the white men behaved as they did, and died like men; the greatest compliment they can pay white people being to compare them to themselves. They think they killed a good many of the enemy, as they had the first fire.

New York, Jan. 10. Wednesday night arrived here the ship Baltimore, capt. Crookshanks, from Cork: On the 18th of Nov. he fell in with and retook the ship Czar of Muscovy, belonging to London, which 3 days before had been taken, on her voyage home from Jamaica, by a French letter of mart ship; and the next day he took a French snow from Cape François for Bourdeaux, M. Mandavis master, laden with sugar, indico, &c. and reckoned a very valuable prize. Capt. Crookshanks parted with 'em about a fortnight ago, and expects them in daily.

New York, Jan 17. Monday last his excellency the earl of Loudoun set out from hence for Boston.

New York, Jan. 24. His majesty's ship Sutherland, of 50 guns, Capt. Falkingham, which came out as convoy to the transports from Cork, is safely arrived here.

CHARLES-TOWN, February 17.

LAST Friday Afternoon His Excellency HENRY ELLIS, Esq; set out from hence for his Government of Georgia: On Sunday Night he reach'd Beaufort, and on Tuesday Morning embark'd there in one of our Scout Boats.

We learn from Georgia, that His Excellency Governor REYNOLDS has taken his Passage for England, in Capt Thomson, who is now loading at Medway

On Saturday Morning, between 2 and 3 o'Clock, went ashore upon Cape Romain (where it is thought she will be lost, as we have had no other than bad Weather since) the Snow Peggy, of and from Glascow for this Port, Collin Buchannan Master, with a Cargo of 2000 l. Sterling Value; but the Crew and Passengers are all safe This was reckoned a missing Vessel.

On Monday His Excellency our Governor went to Dorchester, to review the Berkley County Regiment.

The same Day arrived here Capt. Barnes, from Philadelphia, who left that City the 28th ult. He gives no Account of the Arrival of any of the Troops from Cork, at New York; but met with three Ships going up Delaware Bay, which he supposed to be some of the Transports.

The same Day return'd into Port, from her Cruize, His Majesty's Ship Winchelsea, commanded by John Hale, Esq; having convoyed the Vessels that sail'd over the Bar with her (on the 6th Instant) about 100 Leagues off the Coast, and left them all well.

And the same Day also, arrived here the Ship Elizabeth, Capt. Westlade, in 3 Weeks from Halifax; last Sunday was se'nnight he lost his Main and Mizan Masts. When he left Halifax, there were in that Harbour, the Nottingham, Vulture and Baltimore Men of War; and the Success, Capt. Ross, was gone to Boston, whither she carried Governor Lawrence to receive some Directions from His Excellency the Earl of Loudoun.

Yesterday arrived here Capt. Birkett, but brought no public Prints. He left Whitehaven the 23d of December last, and says, that the Parliament was sitting; and that Admiral Byng's Trial or Examination was to have come on the 24th.

Yesterday also arrived here, La Nanette, Monsr. Peitan Master, a French Scooner (but pretended to be Danish Property), laden with Dry Goods, and bound from Curacoa for Cape François; taken on the 25th ult. by the Defiance Privateer, Capt Fones, of Rhode Island, in Concert with the Prince of Orange, Capt. Dickson, of New York

The People who brought in the above Scooner report, that Five North American Privateers, amongst them the Cicero, Capt. Cook, had attack'd and taken the Island of St. Bartholomew, where they found 3 French Privateers, and a good many Negroes; and that Capt Cook kept Possession of the Island.

We hear, that the Little Carpenter and the Rest of the Cherokee's now in Town, are soon to have their last Conference with His Excellency.

On Monday the 31st ult. a most melancholly Accident befel one John Kiener, a poor Journeyman Joiner (as he was equipping himself for Muster) which has rendered him an Object worthy the Consideration of all well disposed and charitable Christians, since it has deprived him of the only Means in his Power for subsisting himself and his Wife, the Labour of his Hands. It is no less than the Loss of his left Hand, at the Wrist, by the bursting of his Gun: It seems the Gun had been charged some Time with a Ball much too large, which occasioned its bursting as he was going to discharge it; and it is to be wish'd that, in Case we should ever come to Action, many more such Accidents may not happen, thro' the too great Carelessness of many People in not providing themselves with Balls exactly fitted to the Bores of their Pieces. — The like Accidents have been known to happen, even from the Wad not being ramm'd down close to the Powder.
